

Restoring Internet Freedom

I, a U.S. citizen, feel strongly that we as Americans deserve our current rights and freedoms to our public access of the internet and affiliated applications. I urge that the FCC keep Net Neutrality for the people of our country and to not let corporations control who we are and what we can do.